

Force of Habit

$200,000 for Dam

The Goat

Emmett Thompson says this happened yesterday.

It was along toward sundown — the going-home hour — and a line of cars headed north up Hazel street for the highway to the Proving Ground. They approached the strike-bound Missouri Pacific tracks, and the cars quickly crossed — but they were stopped cold.

A car had halted there, and the driver consumed precious minutes as he surveyed two "dead" locomotives parked on a siding, and looked cautiously up and down the main line. Then he went on.

The local boys gunned their cars around him, then grinned charitably — the driver was from Nashville, where the Murfreesboro & Nashville, and the Grayson, Nashville & Ashtown, a couple of roads, are still running.

Prospects for construction of Millwood dam, on Little river just west of Saratoga, were improved yesterday when the $200,000 appropriation of survey work was included in the final recommendations of the House-Senate conference committee.

Millwood may still be years away from us, but it has the backing of the engineers — and now a survey appropriation has been approved.

You recognized the ancient political formula — "Somebody else; not me" — in yesterday's Washington dispatch reporting that the Army Services Committee had ordered the Navy to fire Cedric R. Worth.

Worth is the Navy civilian employee who circulated a memorandum criticizing the Army's B-36 bomber. Naturally, Worth didn't think this was his business. He may have even acted on definite orders.

But that, we will never know. The whole business backfired — and when there's trouble in high quarters, somebody has to be the goat. "Somebody else—not me."

Strike Crisis Not Reached Says Truman

Washington, Oct. 6 —(AP)— President Truman said today the coal and steel strikes have not yet been carried on in Virginia on coal.

He made the statement at a news conference. Minutes earlier John L. Lewis accepted an invitation to attend a government-sponsored peace parley on the coal strike tomorrow.

The mediation talks were called by Conciliation Director Cyrus Ching, who said the coal situation is approaching a crisis.

Mr. Truman said warning of government officials that the coal and steel strikes have not yet been carried on in Virginia on coal.

He then went on to say that the situation has not yet reached a stage for him to intervene.

Asked about progress in studies to find synthetic fuels, Mr. Truman said progress is being made, particularly regarding shale deposits in Utah.

He added that experiments are being carried on in Virginia on coal to make liquid fuel.

The coal operators accepted Ching's invitation to tomorrow's conference before Lewis acted.

The United Mine Workers chief, in characteristically a shyness, sent Ching a two-word telegram from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. where negotiations on the dispute are being held:

"Will attend."

The mines have been shut down since September 19 in what Lewis chose to regard as "spontaneous" protest against the suspension of old age pensions and welfare benefits from his fast-vanishing welfare fund.

Ruling Made on Shanhouse Assessments

Textile mills engaged in manufacture of cotton and fiber products are exempt from taxation for seven years, Attorney General H. M. Murray ruled at Little Rock yesterday.

This opinion was sent to Garrett Willis of Hope, Hempstead county tax assessor. The question arose over personal property assessment of W. Shanhouse and Sons, Inc., which makes cloth and leather jackets in Hope.

The opinion also pointed out that part of the business which includes the making of leather jackets would not be exempt.

Luther Hollamon to Handle Funds for Symphony

Persons interested in helping the Arkansas State Symphony should send their contributions to Luther Hollamon. It was originally planned to send the funds to Mrs. Talbot Field, Jr., Hempstead chairman.

Masonic Meet

The local Masonic Lodge will confer a Masters' Degree at the lodge hall at 7:30 p.m. Friday. All members are urged to be present.

WEATHER FORECAST

Arkansas: Partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Friday. Showers and cooler Friday.

Conviction of Maxwell Taken to High Court

Herman Maxwell, Hempstead county negro convicted of raping a DeAnn white woman last July, scheduled to die in the electric chair Friday, will probably get a reprieve until the Arkansas Supreme Court can rule on the conviction.

Harold Flowers, Pine Bluff negro attorney, left here about 12:30 p.m. today with an appeal motion granted by Circuit Judge Dexter Bush. Flowers had called for a transcript of the trial two days ago.

Maxwell was arrested July 20, the day the Hempstead woman was raped. He was brought to trial and convicted by a jury August 8, and on August 12 he was sentenced to die by Judge Bush.

Arkansas Hopes to Dry Out

Little Rock, Oct. 6 —(AP)— Arkansas, on which the state nature dumped up to nine inches of water in four days, began drying out today.

The rain, worsened by the Gulf hurricane, stopped, and Arkansas is now in a blue sky for the first time since early Sunday. But showers along with cooler weather, were forecast for tomorrow.

Heaviest rainfall for the four-day period 9.01 inches to be exact — for the soggy weather.

Herbert Springs had 8.75 inches; Mountain View, 6.00; Pochontas, 6.35 and Black Rock and Corning 6.30 each.

Several sections of the state were drenched with more than five inches of rain, including Little Rock's 5.27, Blytheville's 5.26 and Searcy's 5.24.

If the sky remains clear or just partly cloudy until 8:30 tonight, the state will be able to see the moon's second eclipse of the year.

The three cramps into the Arkansas livestock show at Little Rock, the national cotton picking contest at Blytheville, highway construction and other activities and dealt heavy blows to some crops, especially cotton and rice.

Most of the state's rivers were rising today, but there was no mention of serious flood threats.

At Pine Bluff the high school gymnasium floor was ruined by the backwash of the river. Boards in the polished floor buckled.

And the easy-to-flood Ouachita river acted up again. The stream rose about seven feet near El Dorado.

State Hospital Death Seems to Be Normal

Malvern, Oct. 6 —(AP)— Prosecutor W. H. McClellan has found no evidence of mistreatment of Mrs. Elva Hubbard, 40, of El Dorado, who died at the Benton unit of the State hospital Sept. 14.

Reputy Prosecutor J. Hugh Wharton announced at El Dorado, Sept. 20, that he would ask McClellan to make an investigation. Wharton said an El Dorado doctor, named the woman's body showed evidence of infection from a severe scalp wound behind the left ear.

McClellan said he would mail a report on his investigation to Wharton today.

The Malvern prosecutor said "you can quote me as saying I found no evidence of mistreatment, he added that his report closes the matter, as far as I am concerned, but I will offer the El Dorado people an opportunity to present evidence to the grand jury if they wish."

Dr. George W. Jackson, State hospital superintendent, said hospital records show Mrs. Hubbard suffered from high blood pressure and a kidney ailment.

Detroit Feeling Pinch of the Steel Strike

Detroit, Oct. 6 —(AP)— Detroit began feeling the pinch today of the nationwide steel strike.

The Packard Motor Car Co. laid off 7,856 of its 12,413 employees until Monday.

The Briggs manufacturing plant for Packard, laid off 5,000 employees at its Conner plant for the rest of the week.

Both companies said operations would resume Monday but on a reduced schedule. Packard said its shutdown is to balance shop wages already caused by the steel strike.

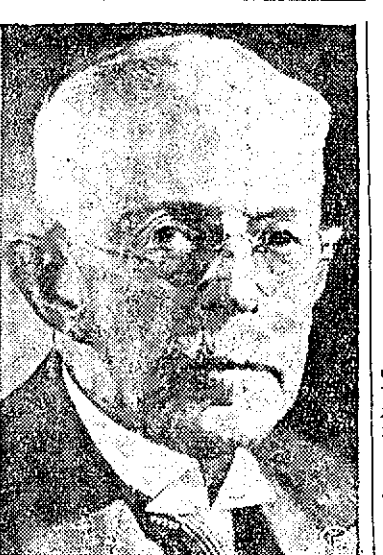

The automotive shutdowns brought to about 25,000 the number of workers idled in the Detroit area as result of the steel strike.

The strike idled 10,300 steel workers at Great Lakes Steel and 2,000 others in five small steel plants here.

Hempstead Singing Convention Set for Sunday, Oct. 9

The Hempstead County Singing Convention will be held Sunday, October 9, at Spring Hill church. Everybody is invited.

Officers are: H. Mitchell, president; C. A. Fuller, vice-president; Mrs. Lillian Roberts, secretary; Sid Skinner, sgt.-at-arms; and G. A. Powell, chaplain.

AILING KING — Ninety-one-year-old King Gustav is seriously ill with a bronchial disorder in Stockholm, Sweden. The king has been treated with aureomycin from a supply of the drug given to the Swedish Medical Board by an American firm. Informal sources said the ailing monarch remained very weak.

Ex-Postmaster General Succumbs

St. Louis, Oct. 6 —(AP)— Robert E. Hannegan, former postmaster general and one-time owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, died today at his home here.

The cause of his death was not immediately disclosed, but Hannegan had been in failing health for some time.

His wife was at his bedside. A friend who notified the press of his death said it occurred between 9 and 9:30 a.m. CST.

Hannegan, who was only 46, gave his health as the reason for selling his interest in the Cardinals last winter.

Hannegan retired as postmaster general in November, 1947, to head a syndicate buying the St. Louis baseball club. He also had served as chairman of the National Democratic committee and directed the party's 1944 presidential campaign.

Truman Signs Arms Aid Bill Into a Law

Washington, Oct. 6 —(AP)— President Truman today signed the $1,314,000,000 arms aid bill, calling it "a notable contribution to the collective security of the free nations of the world."

The legislation authorizes American aid for 14 countries in Western Europe, the Middle East and Far Pacific to help them resist communism.

In a statement at the signing ceremony at the White house, Mr. Truman said:

"This act is necessary only because of the unsettled conditions of the world today which we, in concert with many other nations, are striving to overcome."

He said he believed that we shall be successful in these efforts to achieve international understanding and to establish, in accordance with our national policy, effective international control and reduction of armaments, through the United Nations.

Forced Into Life of Prostitution, Still Loves Hubby

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 6 —(UP)— A 17-year-old Oklahoma farm girl accused her husband of chaining her to a bed and forcing her into prostitution but said today she still "likes" him.

"I didn't like to do what I was doing, but I like him," Mrs. Opal H. Davidson said at the trial of her husband, Roland, charged in federal court with transporting her across state lines for immoral purposes.

The pretty, dark-haired girl from Checotah, Okla., said she met Davidson when he was a radio singer in Tyler, Tex. She testified that they followed the wheat harvest last summer after they married and that he chained her to hotel beds in four states.

After the government rested its case against Davidson late yesterday, the court recessed until this morning.

Mrs. Davidson burst into tears and sobbed as Defense Attorney J. K. Murray asked her repeatedly why she did not report Davidson to police if she did not "like" him.

She said Davidson would chain her to his bed nightly and sometimes during the day.

Navy's Birthplace

Marblehead, Mass., claims to be the birthplace of the American Navy since the schooner Hannah, named and fitted there, was the first American warship regularly commissioned, Sept. 2, 1775, by Gen. George Washington.

Farm Alliance Claimed by Labor Leaders

By NORMAN WALKER

St. Paul, Oct. 6 —(AP)— American Federation of Labor leaders today claimed success in cementing labor-farmer political alliances for a joint drive in the 1950 congressional elections.

They said they have worked out deals with farm groups in various sections of the country to cooperate "in electing our friends and defeating our enemies" in next year's important campaign.

George Meany, AFL secretary-treasurer, told the federation's annual convention that "in many cases the problem of making our influence felt in predominantly rural districts has been solved by working out formal and informal alliances with farm groups."

Joseph D. Keenan, director of the AFL labor league for political education in winning convention endorsement of a multi-million dollar political war chest, said:

"There is one thing we have learned in our experience in the political arena. The enemies of labor are also the enemies of the farmer. Since our enemies are in common, the individual farmer and the city worker have everything to gain through mutual, political action as voters."

Keenan told members of the AFL political league has worked out cooperative political arrangements with groups belonging to the National Farmers union, National Grange and American Farm bureau.

As a further step in wooing farmers to join the AFL, invited Jerry Voorhis, secretary-treasurer of the farmer-dominated cooperative league of the United States, to be a convention speaker today. Voorhis is a former Democratic congressman from California.

The convention unanimously approved a resolution authorizing a political fund raising drive. It contemplates collecting a $2 contribution from each of the AFL's claimed 8,000,000 members. Keenan said he hoped this would net several million dollars.

Keenan promised the AFL's 1950 year-end collection will be $20 million. He singled out nine Republican senators for defeat in 1950. Heading the list was Senator Taft (R-Ohio). Another was Senator Judd, who is engaged in the presidential New York state election race.

The others named for AFL opposition were Senators Donnell, Missouri; Capehart, Indiana; Milliken, Colorado; Hickenlooper, Iowa; Wiley, Wisconsin; Young, North Dakota, and Gurney, South Dakota.

Keenan said he is working on a list of house members whom the AFL will support or oppose but it isn't ready yet.

Murfreesboro Wreck Adds to Death List

By The Associated Press

Death of four persons in a truck-automobile collision near Murfreesboro, Tenn., today added to the death toll for the week to ten.

Killed in the tangled wreckage were: Wayne Gray, about 20, his wife, about 17, their one-year-old daughter and his brother, Thomas Gray, 18, all of Delight, Ark.

They were riding in the vehicle which collided with a loaded gravel truck.

An industrial accident, the fading fringes of the gulf hurricane, a homicide and traffic accidents caused six other deaths.

National Hat Week Is When Manufacturers Hope to Cover a Lot of New Heads

Philadelphia and New Britain, Conn., pretty models and beauty queens will circulate in the streets awarding free hat certificates to the "best hatted men."

And in New York, up and down the blocks of Fifth avenue, the Marquis de Lafayette when he wears a crown of hats worn by various great men in the past 200 years.

In one window, you can see an orange straw top hat with a tan fringe straw top hat worn by the Marquis de Lafayette when he made his triumphal tour of the United States in 1825. A few doors down there are Daniel Webster's straw hat, Bill Cody's ten-gallon, Will Rogers' polo helmet, Daniel Freeman's derby and high silk toppers worn by Jimmy Walker and John Barrymore.

The hat research foundation, sponsors of the project, tried to get the historic campaign fedora worn by Franklin D. Roosevelt but the government won't let it out of Hyde Park.

The foundation did get Lincoln's stovepipe hat and a similar model worn by a man who attended his funeral as well as an admiral's black silk beaver of 1776. "There is talk about the 'importance of hats in the history of freedom' (i. e., when Greek slaves became free they wore a felt hat as the symbol of their freedom).

The mayor of Philadelphia, the "hat city of the East," is reported sending a super-deluxe model to President Truman. Danbury, Conn., the "hat capital of the country," has special plans, too. In Albany, N. Y., a man-on-the-street broadcaster is giving away hats for correct answers about hats. In School Bus, Truck Accident Kills 3 in N. Carolina

Middlesex, N. C., Oct. 6 —(AP)— A school bus and a truck collided near here today, killing three children and injuring 15 more.

The children were rushed to several scattered hospitals.

The state highway patrol reported three dead and 15 hurt. A Rocky Mount hospital said three children died there of injuries. It could not be determined immediately if these were the same fatalities reported by the highway patrol. Earlier, Dr. John S. Chamberlain, Nash county health officer, said four were dead and about 18 injured.

Arkansas' Roe Evens Series for Bums 1-0

The Brooklyn Dodgers behind the hurrying of Arkansas' Preacher Roe, sent up the World Series today by letting down the New York Yankees 1-0 before 70,053 paid fans.

The Dodgers scored in the second inning on two hits and that was it. Preacher Roe limited the Yankees to 6 hits, no more than one to an inning.

Raschi who gave way to a pinch hitter in the 8th gave up 6 hits and earned one run and gave up one error and one out and the Dodgers committed 2.

The Brooklyn score came on a double by Jackie Robinson who went across on a clean single by Hodges.

Slavs Expell 5 Czech Embassy Members

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Oct. 6 —(UP)— The government has ordered the expulsion of five members of the Czechoslovak embassy and eight members of the Polish embassy, authoritative sources at the two embassies said today.

The Yugoslav ministry of information declined immediate comment.

But sources at the two embassies said the expulsions were delivered yesterday following Polish and Czechoslovakian denunciations earlier this week of friendship pacts with Marshal Tito's regime.

In addition, Czechoslovakia had expelled the Yugoslav ambassador in Prague.

The reported action would strip the two embassy staffs to a single diplomat each.

Houchins to Go to Trial for Murder Friday

Little Rock, Oct. 6 —(AP)— First degree murder trial of Harold Raymond Houchins, 23, medical student charged with the slaying of a prominent Arkansas insurance executive, will open Friday in Pulaski County court.

Houchins was arrested last May while a junior at the University of Arkansas medical school. He was charged with killing Seth L. Reed, Clarksville, Ark., insurance man, in a hotel room here last fall.

Prosecutor Edwin Dunaway said Houchins admitted striking Reed after the two had engaged in homosexual relations but denied he intended to kill him.

Dunaway has not said whether he will ask the death penalty.

U. S. to Enter Coal Strike; Steel Ignored

Pittsburgh, Oct. 6 —(AP)— The CIO United Steelworkers made peace with Henry J. Kaiser but spread the walkout to two more plants today.

And as the nationwide steel shutdown over pensions reached the sixth day, the federal government — still ignoring Philip Murray's battle with Big Steel — announced it would try to settle the 18-day-old strike of 380,000 soft coal miners.

The ranks of 500,000 striking steelworkers were joined last night by 1,500 at the Atlantic Steel company in Atlanta and 2,800 at the Riverdale plant of the Acme Steel company near Chicago.

Atlantic is a basic steel plant which also does some manufacturing while Acme's Riverdale plant is primarily a fabricator.

Despite these developments there are no signs of an early peace in the double-barreled steel-coal walkout.

Sporadic violence marks the coal strike. At least a thousand non-union miners continue digging with protection of heavily armed guards and police.

Kaiser steel's acceptance of contract demands was announced last night by Murray, president of the steelworkers.

Kaiser did what Big Steel refuses to do. It signed an agreement to pay four cents per hour for insurance and six cents an hour for pensions paid completely by the company. The plan is retroactive to Oct. 1. Thirty-five hundred employees at its Fontana, Calif., plant will benefit. Their contract was due to expire October 15.

The Kaiser agreement, which follows the exact recommendations of the presidential fact finding board, is the first reached since the strike began. And the West coast firm is the most basic steel producer to accede to the union's demands.

Portsmouth (Ohio) steel, with 4,000 employees, signed before the strike deadline six days ago. Standard steel works of Burmah, Pa., a division of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, also agreed to a pension and insurance program before the strike began.

The government is showing no indication of stepping into the steel strike soon but Cyrus Ching, director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, summoned John L. Lewis and coal operators to Washington tomorrow.

Lewis didn't say immediately. Operators said they're willing to try and find a way of ending the United Mine Workers' strike which began September 19.

The walkout came after trustees of the miners' pension and welfare fund suspended payments. They said some southern operators quit paying 20-cent-a-ton royalty payments.

Lewis met with southern operators at Bluefield, W. Va., yesterday following a session with the northern and western operators at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

U. M. W. officials were cool to the government's mediation efforts. U. M. W. Vice President Thomas Kennedy commented the mediation service hasn't been very successful. He indicated negotiations without help of the government would continue even if the union sends representatives to Friday's meeting.

38 Convicts Paroled in Arkansas

Little Rock, Oct. 6 —(AP)— Paroles yesterday by the Arkansas parole board for 38 convicts were approved yesterday by the Arkansas parole board.

Those paroled included (name, county, date of sentence, charge and length of term):

Charles Prince Coleman, Jefferson, Sept. 28, 1942, second degree murder, 21 years.

D. H. Hanks, Jefferson, Oct. 11, 1948, grand larceny, three years.

Ivy Hopkins, Mississippi, March 17, 1942, assault to rape, 15 years.

Willard Johnson, Craighead, Sept. 8, 1949, burglary, three years.

Jessie Morrison, Greene, Sept. 13, 1947, false pretense, four years.

J. W. Pinson, Craighead, Sept. 13, 1946, homicide, six years.

Curtis Pool, Greene, May 25, 1949, assault to kill, one year.

Charles Pope, Craighead, May 21, 1949, keeping a gambling house, one year.

Odell Richardson, Arkansas, March 31, 1944, robbery, eight years.

Lee Roberts, Phillips, Oct. 20, 1939, assault to kill, 28 years.

Al Sorrentino, Craighead, Feb. 1, 1948, keeping a gambling house, two years.

Albert Walker, St. Francis, Sept. 27, 1945, second degree murder, 12 years.

Aaron Washington, Phillips, May 7, 1948, forgery and uttering, four years.

"You know our policy has been consistent," Quattlebaum said in his opinion. "The Soviet Union in the past has opposed any world count of weapons which would not include atomic weapons. Now since the Soviets have engineered an atomic explosion and claim they mastered the atomic secret two years ago, will their arms control policy be changed? Perhaps next Tuesday the world will know."

Quattlebaum is going to give the embryo East German government a taste of sovereignty. The government which is to be proclaimed tomorrow is being set up to rival the West German government sponsored by the United States, Britain and France. The communists claim the western government is a puppet controlled by the Western Allies occupation state.

To gain support of East Germany, it was announced that the Russians will only exercise "administrative supervision" over the new East German government. However, this has little meaning in that the government will be controlled by a "national front" in which the communists wield at least 60 per cent of the voting power. The German communists are omitted solidly to Kremlin policy. So Russia would not need to use an occupation statute as a whip.

At Canton, the Chinese nationalists claimed their armies are doing better in the field. They announced a sizeable victory over the communists in Hunan province. He said it would stabilize the situation in Central China. There were reports that the nationalists armies have warded off a communist attack on Kukong, 125 miles north of Canton.

In Washington, President Truman set in operation a $1,314,000,000 arms program to aid friendly nations around the world. The initial outlay of the money voted by congress will prepare for shipment abroad some $350,000,000 in surplus U. S. military equipment, possibly by the middle of next month.

Court Hears Few Cases, Adjourns

Before dismissing the jury until Monday, October 10, the following cases were disposed of in Hempstead Circuit Court:

Andrew Knighton, judgment of lower court on assault battery charge affirmed, fine stayed on good behavior.

James Hester, judgement of lower court on assault and battery charge affirmed, fine stayed on good behavior.

W. A. (Alec) Franks, assault and battery, fined $10, execution fine stayed on good behavior.

Frank Childs, drunk driving, lower court judgment affirmed, fine $20, stayed 30 days sentence, drivers' license suspended for 30 days.

George King, grand larceny, plea of guilty, sentenced to two years, sentence suspended on good behavior.

Yesterday in Big Springs Grand-jury reportedly decided to sell his "life story" to an independent motion picture producer.

M. S. Bates Exhibits State Winners

In the polled Hereford judging at the Arkansas Livestock show yesterday the Circle B Ranch of Hope owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Bates took the following awards:

Senior yearling bulls, calved before Sept. 1-Dec. 31, 1947, first place; 2-year-old heifers calved before Sept. 1-Dec. 31, 1947, first, second and third places.

Senior yearling heifers calved between May 1-Aug. 31, 1947, first place; Get-of-Sire (4 animals all of one sire) second place; Two females, bred and owned by the exhibitor, third place.

The Circle B only exhibited 5 head.

MONEY MAN—The generosity of Cornelius L. Roy of Lansing, Mich., above, was too much for Washington, D. C., police. The 39-year-old machinist was picked up after giving away some $15,000 in cash to some "poor people." One man got $7000 to "pay off his home" and another $5000 "to buy a bus." Most of the rest went to waitresses and cab drivers in $100 tips. L. Roy was taken to a hospital for observation.

French Parties Maneuver for Power

By The Associated Press

President Vincent Auriol of France today accepted the resignation of Premier Henri Queuille. Partisans of the right and left immediately set up a clamor to enter the government.

Queuille had led the most stable and enduring French government since the war. Devaluation of the franc brought on the crisis.

The premier was forced to resign because of a conservative vote. He had held it together for one year and 25 days. Devaluation of the franc and fear of inflation brought increased demands from the socialists for wage boosts, but he refused because he strongly opposed general increases believing they will only speed up the inflationary cycle. He is a radical socialist which in the French reached the point for his intervention. He was not a socialist because he was supported by the other conservatives who made up his coalition cabinet. Now President J. Auriol has the difficult job of finding a new premier.

Queuille's resignation at the United Nations is hinting it has a new peace proposal up its sleeve. Delegate Jakob A. Malik started other delegates guessing when he announced he would propose a new plan on armament control to meet the security council next Tuesday.

Reporters asked Malik if his new plan embraced a census of atomic weapons as well as conventional armaments. Malik replied:

"You know our policy has been consistent."

The Soviet Union in the past has opposed any world count of weapons which would not include atomic weapons. Now since the Soviets have engineered an atomic explosion and claim they mastered the atomic secret two years ago, will their arms control policy be changed? Convict Returns to Jail After Furlough

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 6 —(UP)— Tennessee's best-known convict, Composer Frank Grandstaff, was to return to his prison cell late today after a six-day "furlough" in Big Spring, Tex.

Gov. Gordon Browning permitted the life-term prisoner to go to Big Springs last Saturday to hear his composition, "Big Spring Cantata," sung as part of the Texas town's 100th anniversary celebration.

Grandstaff was sent to prison for life under Tennessee's habitual criminal law from Memphis in 1911 after several convictions of larceny. He composed the cantata in prison, remembering his visits to Big Springs as a piano salesman.

Grandstaff made the trip to Texas in the private plane of a Texas oil man and was to return the same way today. Governor Browning made the state of Texas responsible for his safe-keeping during the trip.

Yesterday in Big Springs Grandstaff reportedly decided to sell his "life story" to an independent motion picture producer.

Army Probing Death of Soldier

Honolulu, T. H., Oct. 5 —(UP)— Army authorities today investigated the death of Pvt. Elvin J. Virdine 20, of Basile, La., who was found strangled last Sunday night on the campus of Punahou academy.

Detective Capt. Leon Straus said the youth had been strangled with thin cord or wire which has not been found. The soldier's wallet, believed to contain only a few dollars, was missing.

The youth recently arrived from Korea. He was last seen in downtown bar four hours before his body was found.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Laura Virdine, of Basile.

Governors Will Try to End MoPac Strike

St. Louis, Oct. 6 —(AP)— Governors of states affected by the Missouri Pacific strike took matters in their hands today in an attempt to settle the dispute.

What they intended to do was not clear. But Gov. Forrest Smith of Missouri said he had a plan. It was Smith who called the governors together.

Guy A. Thompson, the railroad's trustee, sought court intervention yesterday but the move was regarded only as a legal gesture. Attorneys here said a court decision in the case would not be binding on the four striking unions.

However, Federal Judge George H. Moore, yielded to Thompson's request and appointed Jesse W. Barrett, a lawyer, to serve as special master to conduct an inquiry into the issues causing the walkouts.

Barrett will hold hearings and recommend the court which of the 232 disputed claims should be paid.

The court could issue an order to Thompson based on these recommendations. As federal trustee in bankruptcy, Thompson would be subject to the courts' orders.

But the strikers said the unions were not parties to the litigation and that any order could serve merely as a guide.

At Canton, the Chinese nationalists claimed their armies are doing better in the field. They announced a sizeable victory over the communists in Hunan province. He said it would stabilize the situation in Central China. There were reports that the nationalists armies have warded off a communist attack on Kukong, 125 miles north of Canton.

In Washington, President Truman set in operation a $1,314,000,000 arms program to aid friendly nations around the world. The initial outlay of the money voted by congress will prepare for shipment abroad some $350,000,000 in surplus U. S. military equipment, possibly by the middle of next month.

Italians were the first Europeans to use playing cards, but the French originated the four-suit game in 16th century. The Victorian cardsharps, however, are the Hindustani, who were playing more than 1100 years ago.

U. S. Protests Treatment of Strays of Reds

Washington, Oct. 6 — (AP)—The United States sent a strongly worded note to Russia today protesting the "shocking" mistreatment of Americans who stray into the Soviet zone of Germany.

"This treatment the United States government finds to be in shocking contrast to the most elementary standards of international decency," the note said.

At the same time the United States, through Ambassador Kirk in Moscow, notified the Russian foreign office that "it expects that those Soviet officials who are responsible for these acts will be punished."

The American note referred specifically to the case of two American college students who "inadvertently and innocently" entered the Russian zone while bicycling and who were detained for eight weeks.

It also cited the case of Pvt. John J. Skinkowicz, an American soldier, who escaped Sept. 10 from a prison in the Soviet sector of Berlin after 10 months of imprisonment. The note said he was held under "brutal and uncivilized conditions."

The note said bluntly: "There can be no justification for this kind of treatment of citizens of a friendly nation, persons whose only violation of law is purely technical at most and whose

Negro Named Head of State School

Little Rock, Oct. 6 — (AP)—John Henderson, 36-year-old Negro, is the new director of training and rehabilitation at the Negro boys industrial school at Wrightville.

Employment of a Negro training and rehabilitation director at the correctional institution for Negro boys was recommended by the National Council on Children and Youth.

Cotton Picking Contest to Be Held October 14

Blytheville, Oct. 6 — (AP)—The main part of the national cotton picking contest, the picking—has been rescheduled for Oct. 14.

The whole show, sponsored by the Blytheville Junior Chamber of Commerce, had been canceled for today and tomorrow but 5.26 inches of rain in the last four days turned the cotton fields into seas

DOROTHY DIX All Hands Round

Dear Dorothy Dix: We are three young matrons blessed with a child, piece, beautiful homes, good looks, cars of our own and generous allowances. But we are each in love with the other's husband. We have all been friends all our lives and hate to break up each other's home and though we are willing to part with our husbands we hate to hurt our children. Please advise us concerning our problem.

THREE UNHAPPY MOTHERS

Answer: I should say that what's the matter with you three spoiled women is too much prosperity. What you need is a good, drastic dose of hard times and it is a pity you missed getting yours. If you had to go into a kitchen and cook and scrub and wash your husbands' shirts and nurse your own babies and walk twenty blocks to save 2 cents a pound on meat, you would have something to think about besides the temperature of your affections and you would be happier women.

The old proverb about the devil finding work for the idle hands to do finds its truest illustration in women. Work a woman half to death and she is happy and contented and satisfied with her husband and all is well. Give her plenty of money and nothing to do and she begins to visualize her emotions and count her heart throbs and pull her husband to pieces to see if he really is the Fairy Prince she thought he was and she soon discovers that her idol has feet of clay.

Use your heads, girls. Try to realize that it is idleness and not love that ails you. Give the old bean a chance, and let it sprout a few home truths, among which will be the fact that you really have no fault to find with your husbands. They are kind, good and generous to you and the only reason you are dissatisfied with them is because the shine and glitz has worn off of your romance and you want a new one with fresh paint on it.

You know your husbands. You know their faults and peculiarities and little ways and some of them get on your nerves. And your friend's husband seems alluring to you and preferable to your own simply because you have never lived with him and don't know his little peculiarities and ways.

But if you swapped husbands you would find that you had merely exchanged one set of faults for another and that one man is as hard to live with as another and that you can get tired of one man as easily as you can of another and in the end you would not have bettered your condition at all.

Dear Miss Dix: Do you honestly think a daughter should be judged by her mother? I'd hate to be judged by mine. We do not lead the same kind of lives. If there ever was a henpecked husband, my father is one. I could not treat a man that way. My mother and my sisters are very gay. Every night they have parties for which they could be put out of a decent neighborhood and which always winds up in an argument or fight. I never go to any of them. I live with grandmother, and most people who know me say I am just like her and not like my mother. I have a secret dread that I may be judged by my mother. Is this fair?

A DAUGHTER

Answer: Of course, it isn't fair, but it is the penalty you must pay for being your mother's daughter. A girl is the result not only of her heredity but also of her environment, and nine times out of ten she is absolutely what her mother has made her. It is her mother who forms her plastic character and fixes her pattern of life.

But it is also true that often a girl is so revolted at the way her mother does that she goes to the opposite extreme, as in your case. Because her mother was a virgin, she controls her own temper; because her mother ruined her father with her extravagance, she becomes a saver; because her mother was loose living, it turned her into a prude.

For sometimes our mothers are an example to us and sometimes an awful warning.

Dear Miss Dix: I am in love with a married man with a child. What shall I do?

LOUISE

Answer: Do as you would want some other woman to do if she loved your husband. You would want her to let him alone. You would want her to refuse to see him or to think about him or to have anything to do with him. Try that.

Medical Groups Are Being Investigated

Chicago, Oct. 6 — (AP)—Trustees of the American Medical Association said today the AMA and 16 state and county medical societies are being investigated by the anti-trust division of the justice department.

The board of trustees issued a statement "protesting the use of the police arm of the government in a campaign to discredit American medicine and terrorize physicians into abandoning their opposition to compulsory health insurance."

The board said that on Feb. 10 the board room of the trustees in Chicago was broken into and records of the board were thoroughly searched.

Dr. George F. Lull, secretary of the AMA, said "no accusations are made against the department of justice."

Democrats Asked to Stir Up Backing for Olds

Washington, Oct. 6 — (AP)—President Truman said today he had asked Democratic Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., to stir up support among state leaders for confirmation of Leland Olds on the federal power commission.

He told a news conference that this was a very proper thing to do. He said he has to have party discipline if he is to transact the carry out the party platform.

A senate committee yesterday reported adversely on Olds' nomination for a third term despite the President's letter to the senate saying "powerful corporations" were out to defeat his nominee.

America Only Half Religious? Perhaps That Half Proclaims Religion Through Their Deeds

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The bishop of London, Dr. John W. C. Wand, says he was surprised to find during his recent six weeks tour of the United States that fifty per cent of Americans "have no religion at all."

The Church of England prelate remarks that in England practically everybody owns to having a religion and "if he is not very sure about things and does not go to church regularly, he says he is Church of England." Dr. Wand doesn't define the term "religion" in his little statement.

Not being a theologian myself, but in seeking a definition, I am referred by my dictionary to the New Testament — James 1:27 — where I read:

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, (for man) to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and keep himself unspotted from the world."

That, I take it, involves following the Golden Rule and living a correct life in the eyes of heaven.

Anyway, what I'm leading up to is a homely little story which I encountered last night.

An artist friend of mine cracked up a few days ago and is in a hospital awaiting a serious operation. He is one of America's foremost illustrators, whose work all of you must have seen. When he collapsed he was just starting to do five pictures for an important rush order.

In desperation he took this work to the hospital with him, and was struggling helplessly with his crayons when an artist friend called. The visitor promptly confiscated the entire art outfit and rushed to a telephone. Within a matter of minutes he had recruited four other distinguished illustrators and they immediately foregathered in one of their studios.

Then the five — all of them busy in their own right — set to work each according to his special talents. The specialist in drawing pretty girls took the panel which series had been provided for. Thus in a few hours the panels were completed and dispatched to their destination.

While I was calling at the hospital one of the quintet dropped in to see how the sick man was getting along and the latter tried to express his gratitude for the contribution of his colleagues. The smiling artist flushed and

"Fernet it," he growled. "There isn't one of us who hasn't been helped by you when he was in a jam."

Well, that's all there is to my story, and it could have had its setting in Canada or Latin America or Europe or Asia. But it happened in America where half the people — among whom, I suspect, my five might be placed — "have no religion at all."

Or have they? I wonder — but, as previously remarked, not being a theologian I can't argue the point. So please, you experts, don't start writing in to correct my errors. Just leave me happy in the thought that those rescuing artists are a pretty good lot who proclaim their religion by their deeds, and that they represent untold legions of other good folk.

Plane Passengers

Fifty-seven per cent of the Americans riding commercial air lines are between the ages of 26 and 45, 27 per cent over 45, and 16 per cent under 26.

Partnership in Atomic Energy Field Considered

Washington, Oct. 5 — (AP)—Under Secretary of State Webb said today that the United States, Britain and Canada are considering a "partnership" in the atomic energy field.

He said a news conference that "good progress" in exploring this possibility was made in the recent American-British-Canadian talks on atomic matters. These discussions

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nervous headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Be Careful in Handling Laying Hens

Early hatched pullets in Hempstead county poultry flocks will soon be ready to go into the laying house. Home Demonstration Agent Lorraine Blackwood advises that each bird be handled individually and only the top quality birds housed.

Many persons take the mistaken attitude of, "Well, she won't lay long, but she will lay a few eggs, so I'll put her in extra." This type of bird is seldom profitable to keep, especially if permitted to run with her more vigorous sisters. It is a better practice to cull the hen. If in marketable condition, put her on the market; if not kill and bury or burn her.

Birds should be closely examined, and cut them open to intestinal tract from the vent to the Kill one or two of the poor quality thoroughly. This is best done by examining the intestinal tract, the pointed pocket knife and opening taking a pair of scissors or a blunt the gizzard.

Large round worms, very plainly seen, look very similar to sewing needles. Large tape worms can be easily seen. They are different from the round worms in that on close examination they look like they are made up of many sections. Small round worms can be best determined by immersing the intestinal tract in a quart fruit jar filled with clear water. The worms will spread out from the intestinal tract.

There are many good commercial remedies for the removal of round worms from chickens. Mrs. Blackwood explained. However, in the case of tape worms, no drug has been found effective.

Young pullets should be examined thoroughly for external parasites such as lice and mites. These should be treated where found. It is always a good practice to paint the perch poles of the laying house with some type of roost paint for the control of mites. This should be done from two to four weeks before the pullets are moved to the laying house.

Use nicotine sulphate and sodium fluoride for individual treatment, and use of nicotine sulphate on the perch poles approximately 30 minutes before roosting do a good job of controlling lice. Where individual application is made, the home demonstration agent recommended two treatments at least ten days apart.

Robin R. Cobble

The Story: Jenny is not as happy as she should be married to Tod Duncan. First they live with Tod's widowed mother, his brother Joe and sister Harriet, who dislike her. Later they move to a disagreeable trailer camp while Tod finishes college. Jenny must give up her job as a model when she learns she is to become a mother. Tod meets Rick Morris, an old chum, who advises Tod to forget Liz Conover, the girl who jilted Tod, but whom Tod can't forget. Jenny believes Tod married her "on the rebound." There are financial difficulties and Jenny sells an old fishing shack owned by her father to get money to live on. Then Tod's mother calls with news that Tod's brother Joe has embezzled money and Tod must help him out. Tod sells his car to get Joe out of trouble.

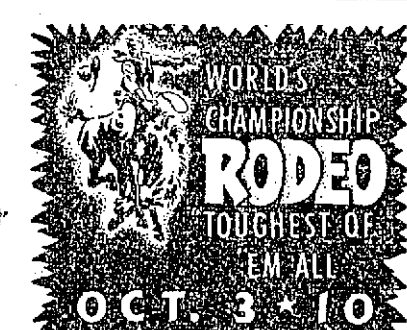

The girls at the shop gave a shower for Jenny. Everyone seemed anxious to do anything they could to please her. She had a happy faculty of making friends easily. Already she knew every single family in the trailer camp. And Tod knew scarcely any of them except the Hansens.

It might be all right to chum around with people like that, Tod thought. But once you'd cultivated a taste for champagne, it was a bit hard to stick to nothing but beer. Of course there was always Rick, one of the champagne crowd, you might say. He did things in a broad, handsome way. Once, for instance, he brought Jenny a dozen long-stemmed roses in a white box tied with ribbon, because she had invited him to dinner.

Rick invited the two of them to drive home with him to Centerville, 50 miles south, to spend Christmas with him and his mother. Tod thought it a grand idea, but Jenny demurred on the sentimental grounds that they should spend their first Christmas alone together. Jenny had a queer sentimental streak in her. Tod thought, for instance, the small blue powder box that Rick had left for her beneath the tree, seemed to mean more to her than the expensive robe he himself had bought her. Maybe it was because the powder box played "Rockabye Baby." And all Jenny could seem to think about was the tree.

Jenny found herself depending on Rick in a lot of ways. Sensing her moods, he catered to them, which Tod never tried to do. In January there was an especially heavy snowfall and Jenny mentioned something about what fun it must have been in the old days to go sleigh-riding. The next day there was a wild ringing of bells and the sound of horses' hoofs and there was Rick with an old sleigh he'd rented from some farmer. He took Jenny and Tod and the Hansens for a hilarious ride.

Tod, watching the way Rick's eyes clung to Jenny's face, knew he ought to feel jealous, but he didn't. Jenny was happy these days.

BRING ALL THE FAMILY to the Shows!

and had turned thoroughly domestic. She met with the weekly home economics club of the camp to discuss husbands, babies, new recipes and trailer camp gossip.

February was a miserable month, bitterly cold and rainy. Tod and Jenny kept pretty well to the trailer. Tod, wading snow across the campus to go to his classes, or to the grocery for Jenny, tried hard not to grumble about their lack of a car, but he felt sullen about their financial situation.

Ma kept troubling him with her affairs too. Joe never wrote to her; she didn't even know where he was; and she was having trouble with Harriet. She was always phoning Tod and wanting him to come over. One particularly miserable night in March she insisted that he come across town to her apartment. She was all alone. Harriet had left for good.

"But Ma," Tod explained patiently, "I can't very well come. Jenny's all alone and what if she should get sick while I was gone?" "Yes of course, she comes first."

Ma began to weep. Her sobs made little hiccupy noises in the receiver of the phone. "I don't have anyone that cares anything about me now." The desperate note in her words frightened him. He felt that he had better go.

Jenny wanted to point out that he was her only refuge also. But like Ma he was touchy about the faintest hint of criticism. She let him go. After all, if she needed help she could rouse the Hansens. And anyway, the baby wasn't due for another week.

But the wildness of the night and the sense of being alone gave Jenny an uneasy feeling. Almost as soon as Tod left it began to sleet. The sound dimmed softly on the roof of the trailer and pattered against the windows. She looked through the window facing the Hansen trailer after a while and noticed that it was dark. Tod had forgotten to make sure they were going to be home all evening.

Panic came to her quite suddenly with the first twinges of pain. The hour that ensued was like a nightmare. She tried to keep calm by getting her overnight case ready to take to the hospital. Tod said he would not stay long. She did not dare venture out of the trailer because the ground was covered with ice and the wind was howling the sleet in a steady drumming against the trailer now. She grew no longer aware of time, only the dark waves of pain that caught her in their relentless grip over and over again. She was crying.

Then came a knock at the door. She called out, as the blackness caught her relentlessly again. All at once she was aware of Rick's calm presence, his hands putting her arms into her coat, his arms about her as he carried her to his car.

His overcoat was rough against her face. "Oh, Rick, I'm so glad you came! So glad!" "Jenny, darling, don't worry. Everything'll be all right."

A&P, TOO, TAKES OFF ITS HAT TO MR. C. WHIT BLOUNT

OF WAYNESBORO, GEORGIA

-AND TO ALL OUR OTHER GOOD COMPETITORS WHO HAVE TAKEN A SIMILAR STAND

[An Editorial From The Atlanta Journal, Thursday, Sept. 29, 1949]

Competitor Denounces Suit Against A&P

THE BOLD three-column advertisement in the current issue of the Waynesboro True Citizen catches the reader's eye. We quote it in full.

To our notion that advertisement by C. Whit Blount states the economic and governmental aspects of the case against A&P with a clarity and forcefulness that most of the editorial comment has lacked

Also it strikes us as a fine example of sportsmanship in business.

Incidentally, it is about as effective an advertisement as could have been written for Mr. Blount's "Grocceteria".

Makes you sort of wish you were in Waynesboro to trade with him, doesn't it?

* * *

[An Advertisement From The Waynesboro True Citizen]

A Word For Our Competitor The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

There has been a move by the anti-trust department of the Federal Government to destroy our leading competitor, the A&P Food Store.

It may seem odd, but we are opposed to this move.

The A&P Co., is definitely our strongest competitor - they keep us hopping. But, we are still in business - And Expanding. We do it by selling quality merchandise, buying at a close margin and selling at CLOSER margin.

The so called "trust-busters" charge that the A&P Co. control some of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they hold the cost price down on foods.

WELL, WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS?? If A&P holds the costs down, it makes our suppliers hold their costs down to the same competitive level. They can sell cheaper, AND SO CAN WE.

We intend to continue to try to sell better merchandise than A&P; We also will continue to have competitive prices.

BUT, We don't believe the government, or any individual should try to break up a firm that is doing a good, clean, efficient job of serving the people of this country.

THREE SERIOUSLY BURNED
 Texarkana, Oct. 5 —(AP)—Three members of a Foulke, Ark., family were seriously burned in a fire that gutted their home last night.

Donald Sams, two sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sams, is in critical condition with third degree burns on his face and body. His sisters, Eula Mae, 10, and Mrs. C. G.
 Burns, 19, were burned on the hands and legs.

Mrs. Green saved the children by pulling them out of the burning house. The fire is reported to have started when one of the children poured kerosene in a woodburning stove.

Fort Smith Is Host to Golf Tournament

Fort Smith, Oct. 6 —(AP)—Some of the nation's top ranking amateuers shot their way through qualifying rounds day opening the quest for the 1949 Willard Memorial golf championship.

Favorite roles have been cast for four of the swingers who started the trek over the 6,495-yard, par 71 course this morning.

National intercollegiate titlist Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N. C.; former national amateur king
 Skeel Reigel of Tulsa, Okla.; Dale Morey of Indianapolis, twice Indian state champion; and former two-time champion Wilford Wehrle, Louisville, Ky.

Former Arkansas Champion Vince Allison of Fort Smith, and all-service champion Capt. Fred Moseley of Washington also have topped the list of contenders.

Defending champion Frank Stranahan, the Toledo wizard, will not be on hand to defend his crown.

Two rounds of 18 hole match play will be played on Friday over the Hardscrabble Country club course. Two more rounds will be played Saturday and the championship will be decided in a 35-hole match Sunday.

Formerly known as the Hardscrabble Invitational, the tourney was renamed this year in honor of its founder, the late Clyde B. Willard.

Raschi Named to Start Second Game

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Allie Reynolds' amazing two-hit shutout of Brooklyn boosted the New York Yankees into the driver's seat in the 46th World Series.

Now Manager Casey Stengel has the edge. He can gamble and lose.
 The confident of no worse than an even break. For "gambling" purposes he has a fit and ready vic-

Raschi, the hero of Sunday's pennant clincher against the Boston Red Sox.

Burt Shotton, elderly keeper of the books, can't afford to miss with this afternoon's choice of Preacher Roe, the angular Arkansas traveler.

After yesterday's 1-0 victory,
 Raschi's last of the night home run, the price makers rubbed off the odds and made it 1 to 3. For today's pairing of Raschi vs. Roe, they quote the 10 to 13 with New York the choice.

Few series games have produced better duels than the one Reynolds, the 31-year-old Oklahoman, and big Don Newcombe, the 26-year-old 33-pound Negro rookie, staged for 68,224 fans yesterday at the Yankee stadium.

It was a soul-satisfying triumph for Reynolds because "Old Wahoo" has been blistered all season in his 17th record and snar "yach," but only four complete games.
 Where could he be without Joe Page?

Reynolds supplied the answer in style. Better was he better. His curve ball drifted past Dodger bats like the blue haze of the sultry October afternoon. Page spent the afternoon sitting, not throwing, in the bullpen.

Page, of course, is the relief ace who followed Reynolds in 20 of the 31 regular season games he started. The Reynolds-Page corporation has been dissolved, temporarily, at least.

For 25-year-old Newcombe, making his first series appearance, this was a disheartening setback.
 Big Newk, the jumbo-sized freshman, pitched good enough to win 80 per cent of the time. He yielded only five hits, two to Reynolds.
 This just didn't happen to be his turn.

Newcombe's 11 strikeouts were close to the series high of 13, hung out by old Howard Ehmke, that October day in 1929 when Connie Mack unveiled him as his surprise starter against Chicago.

As fine as Newcombe was, Reynolds had to be better. The first-inning double by Spider Jorgensen that Johnny Lindell failed to reach Junior, a late start, might have been caught. Allie didn't allow another hit until Pee Wee Reese

Bell Selects Bobcats Over Malvern

(Bell's football prediction record so far this season is 70 right, 17 wrong and three ties for an accuracy of 79.4 per cent. Last week he called 20 right eight wrong for a .766 mark.)

By CARL BELL

Little Rock, Oct. 6 —(AP)—Picking the Razorbacks to spring a second straight upset seems mighty near suicide, but—

Arkansas over Baylor: While Razorbacks have never won a game in Waco and the Bears are one of the Southwest's better teams, we think John Barnhill's boys have the manpower to withstand the Texas heat, the most points up their sleeves and certainly the overwhelming desire to beat the team which has put them on the skids for two years running.

Arkansas over Texas: We were tempted to fall for an upset, but thought again.

Rice over New Mexico: Upset by L. S. U., the Owls—and don't misjudge their strength because of last week's will take it out on this foe.

Texas Christian over Indiana:
 The Frogs might get surprised again, but we think they're better than they looked against Arkansas.

L. S. U. over Texas A. and M.: They're still taking turns kicking the Aggies.

Henderson over Hendrix: The Reddies won't let this one slow their bid for the AIC crown.

Arkansas Tech over Magnolia A. and M.: A champ is a champ until beaten.

Other college choices: East Central Oklahoma over College of the Ozarks; State Teachers over Arkansas college; Little Rock Junior college over St. Bernard (Ala.); Arkansas A. and M. over Austin
 Peay; Ouachita over Arkansas
 State.

High school:
 Little Rock over Hot Springs;
 Why not?

El Dorado over North Little Rock: The south Arkansas Wildcats are rolling; the Northside Wildcats can't get started.

Pine Bluff over Blytheville: The Zebras, however, may find the singled to center with one out in the eighth. He fanned nine.

"They might still be out there, pitching their arms away, if "old reliable" Henrich, the Dodger hex, hadn't poled a Newcombe pitch among the right field seats. Between them they struck out 22 men, only two short of the record set in the 1944 St. Louis Cards-Browns series.

The good folks of Flatbush have reason to remember Mr. Henrich from previous meetings. Tom is the man who was "struck out" by Hugh Casey in the 1941 series only to have Mickey Owen drop the third strike. In the ensuing confusion, the Yanks and Dodgers runs to win a game in which Henrich should have been the last out.

Two years ago Henrich's hitting, including another homer, was a decisive factor in the Dodgers' seven-game loss to the Yanks.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Oct. 6 —(AP)—Red Rofe, the Detroit manager, visited a familiar haunt, the Yankees bunch, just before yesterday's World Series opener. Incidental- ly, Red looked almost in shape to take over his old third-basing chore. . . . Talking about his own team, Rofe commented: "Good pitching can cover up a lot of mis- takes." . . . And he might have been calling the turn on yester- day's game. . . . There's no doubt about the pitching. . . . Don New- combe was throwing a fast ball around their knees, and his control was virtually perfect. . . . Allie Reynolds had it in the clutches, too, so much that Joe Page didn't even warm up. . . . On the other hand, Johnny Lindell and Joe Di- Maggio, between the two, played Spider Jorgensen's first inning drive into a double; Gerry Cole- man bobbled a grounder badly and almost got Allie into difficulties; the Dodgers tried the hit-and-run several times when these games could only get a loud foul, and on the one Dodger steal Yogi Berra made a high throw to second. . . . These are the mistakes that the pitching cured.

No Aid To The Enemy

During batting drills yesterday,
 the Dodgers' Gene Hermanski about Newcombe, pitching. . . . Here he rode all the way over here with this guy this morning and he kept telling me it would be Roe. So I just practiced hitting left-hand pitching. . . . P. S.: Phil didn't get anything resembling a hit, so maybe he was kidding on the square.

Stadium Shadows

American League President Will Hargrave, like everybody else, felt that the World Series was a trifanti-climactic after the windup of the regular season. . . . "We didn't know where we were going until Sunday," he commented, "and it was hard to believe that the Yankees could win both these games from Boston. Those were real World Series games." . . . Jake Piltner, Brooklyn coach, comedian and guardian of the ball bag, received a visit from Ed Gilliland of the Miami, Fla., club and promptly asked: "What about Pepper Martin and that umpire?" . . . Gil-land explained that Pepper had received comparatively light punish-

Junior Bobcats Play Baby Hogs Here Tonight

The Junior Bobkittens will entertain the baby Porkers from Tex-arkana here tonight starting at 7:30.

It will be the second game of the season for the local grid infants who hold a victory over the Prescott Curley Cubs. Coach Kellum will probably start the same eleven that opened against Prescott.

Admission tonight will be 40 and 20 cents.

The Junior High School band will perform at half time tonight.

Larva Used as Shuttle

The ant, oecophylla smaragdina, likes a nest made of silk, but can spin only while in the larval stage.
 So, the adult ant does its weaving by using a larva as a shuttle, moving it back and forth to form the fabric walls of the nest.

Dust From the Dugouts

Yogi Berra was given a special pre-series drill on hiding his signals from rival coaches. . . . Johnny Neun, who was reported scouting the Dodgers toward the close of the season, conservatively says:
 "Just say I was in the West—and that I saw a lot of good ball players."
